We were honored when our dear friend Si asked us to create an album of his songs focused on women's struggles and stories. For many years, Si has been a deeply supportive and encouraging mentor to both of us. We admire Si for his commitment to social justice that shines through in his life, his songwriting, and his organizing work. This album has been a moving opportunity to articulate the evolving yearnings, battles, and victories of women on the centennial of women's suffrage in the United States. So much has changed. So much remains. This record is dedicated to the shared friendships that sustain us as we strive to do our part in creating a more just world.

We extend our heartfelt thanks to these folks who have given of their time and talents to create this recording: Si Kahn, Ben Bateson, Cathy Fink, Amy Lynch, Hasee Ciaccio, Liam Purcell, John Gardner, Pieter Groenveld, Art Menius, Kenny Miles, Mike Monseur, and Eddie Aarts.
